

There must be a better way.

Say that a lot? Good. Get paid for it.

Find the better way. Then build it.

- Spot the clunky stuff.

Our team knows what's slow and frustrating. You listen and work out the fix.

- Build something better.

Automations, spreadsheets, scripts or AI that genuinely saves time.

- Explain it like a human.

Plain English. No jargon, no talking down.

Not IT support. Nobody's asking you to fix the printer.

Xero or FYI experience is a bonus. The mindset matters more.

You automated the boring bit.

We call that a job skill.

Sound familiar?

- + You built a spreadsheet so you'd never do that manual bit again.
- + You found a shortcut and ended up showing everyone.
- + You got AI doing something genuinely useful.

It doesn't matter if you did it at school, home, a job or just for fun. It all counts.

Now do it for a real team, and get paid. Our people know what's clunky. You help them find a better way. Not IT support, and nobody's asking you to fix the printer. Xero or FYI experience is a bonus, but the mindset matters more.
